MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION & ANALYSIS

COMPANIES OVERVIEW

Bhagyanagar India Ltd (BIL) was incorporated in the year 1985, a flagship Company of Surana Group. BIL is one of the oldest industrial houses in India which has diverse business streams such as manufacturing of various Copper products, Real Estate & Infrastructure, Non conventional energy (Wind and Solar). Empowered by a professional team of visionaries, with an experience of over four decades BIL has steadily grown over the years with a continued focus on customer satisfaction, evolving itself into country's one of the most promising mid cap Companies.

PERFORMANCE OF KEY INDUSTRY SEGMENTS

1. Copper products

Introduction

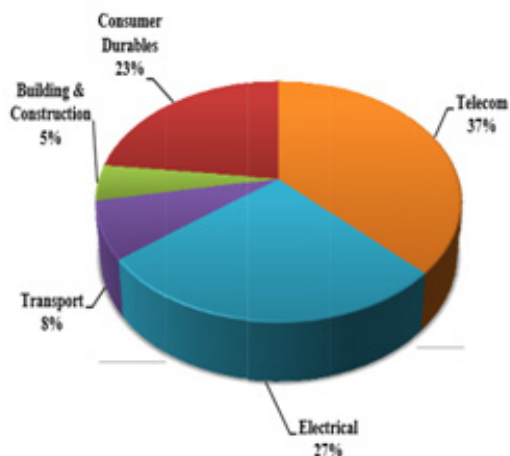

Metals are one of the core sectors of the economy, as it constitutes a key input to various manufacturing industries. It is an indispensable part of an economy and acts as a backbone of the industrial growth and development of an economy. The performance of this sector thus reflects the overall performance of the economy. It is a highly fragmented industry with large number of players in both organized and unorganized sector and can be broadly classified under two main segments namely ferrous metals and non-ferrous metals. Ferrous metals primarily consist of different varieties of iron and steel. Whereas, the term non-ferrous is used to indicate metals other than iron and alloys that do not contain an appreciable amount of iron such as aluminum, zinc, copper and lead. They are not magnetic and are usually more resistant to corrosion than ferrous metals. Ferrous metal find their key applications in the sectors such as automobile and construction. Similarly, the demand for non-ferrous metals is largely driven by sectors like telecommunication, chemicals plants, agriculture, railways, infrastructure and automobile sector. Copper's key applications are found in wires, cables and copper tubes for consumer durable goods. Telecom, power, engineering, automobiles, consumer durables, railways, and defense are the major copper end-user industries.

Industry Analysis

The future of India's metals sector is bright. It is an attractive sector for investment and offers enormous growth potential in both domestic as well as exports markets. Factors such as, huge availability of resources offers the right stimulus for India's metals sector to grow and become globally competitive. Further, the Government of India thrust on power and infrastructure development, favorable regulations and new policy initiatives such as facilitation of FDI, along with overall economic growth, will offer an additional boost for the Indian metal industry. India has become a net exporter of copper after being a net importer during the last decade, even as the country is not a major producer of copper ore, but produces the refined forms of copper. About a decade ago, the Indian copper industry consisted of a single state-owned company and now the copper industry in India takes up about 3% of the global market for copper. The most favorable contributing factors for the growth of the Indian copper industry include changes in global usage, industrial development in India, domestic increases in the construction, power, telecommunications and automobile sectors. The global demand for copper continues to grow: world refined usage has more than tripled in the last 50 years thanks to expanding sectors such as electrical and electronic products, building construction, industrial machinery and equipment, transportation equipment, and consumer and general products. Copper is used broadly in the manufacture of electrical machinery, building, cabling for power and telecommunications, and automobiles. This metal is also used for making brass and other similar alloys. However, it is the electrical industry that consumes an appreciable bulk of the total amount of copper produced in the world. The following data categorizes end use of consumption of copper by the industries:

Notwithstanding the current volatility in prices, we have a long-term bullish stance on copper, supported by its widespread use, limited supplies from existing mines and the absence of significant new development projects. Prices will be influenced by demand from China and emerging markets, economic activity in the U.S. and other industrialized countries. India is among top 20 major producers copper globally. But falling prices of copper in international markets would also benefit India, as it is one of the world's biggest importers of the metal, alongside China, Japan, South Korea and Germany. As a consequence, volatility in prices of the metal on the LME has a significant bearing on Indian copper trading. Typically, over 30 per cent of India's copper demand comes from the telecom sector and 26 per cent from the electrical sector in India. In addition, the building and construction, engineering, transport and consumer durables sectors are major consumers of copper in India.

These sectors stand to benefit the most from lower prices of copper. The most favorable contributing factors for the growth of the Indian copper industry include changes in global usage, industrial development in India, domestic increases in the construction, power, telecommunications and automobile sectors. Copper is used broadly in the manufacture of electrical machinery, building, cabling for power and telecommunications, and automobiles. This metal is also used for making brass and other similar alloys. However, it is the electrical industry that consumes an appreciable bulk of the total amount of copper produced in the world.

Business Outlook:

With the prospect of economy moving forward and the possibility of exchange rate remaining stable the performance of the division looks better during the current Financial Year.

2. Real Estate/Infrastructure Business

India's focus on infrastructure since the turn of the millennium has helped make it the second fastest growing economy in the world. The FDI inflows in construction (infrastructure) activities during the period April 2000 - March 2014 stood at US$ 2,575.79 million, as per the data released by Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (DIPP). The second largest employment generation sector after agriculture, real estate contributes about 6.3 per cent to India's gross domestic product (GDP). The real estate sector, with its growing investment opportunities, is expected to post annual revenues of US$ 180 billion by 2020. The real estate sector in India is witnessing rapid growth in the residential, commercial and industrial segments. Real estate development, once restricted to bigger cities, have shown marked progress in smaller cities and towns owing to availability of banks loans, higher earnings and improved standard of living. The real estate sector of India is projected to post annual revenues of US$ 180 billion by 2020 against US$ 66.8 billion in 2010-11, a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 11.6 per cent. The demand is expected to grow at a CAGR of 19 per cent in the period 2010-2014, with Tier I metropolitan cities expected to account for about 40 per cent of this growth. About 53 per cent of demand for total mall space is projected to come from the country's top seven cities, namely Delhi-NCR, Bengaluru, Mumbai, Kolkata, Pune, Hyderabad, and Chennai in the period 2010-2014. As corporates look to expand businesses, India is expected to witness major demand for office space in 2014. Office space absorption across the country's seven major cities Delhi NCR, Mumbai, Bengaluru, Chennai, Pune, Hyderabad and Kolkata is likely to increase seven per cent this year to 29 million square feet (sq ft), according to global real estate consultant DTZ.

The Indian Government has undertaken numerous efforts in order to ease the access to funding for the infrastructure and construction sector in India. FDI up to 100% is permitted through automatic route in many sectors which means that prior approval of government or reserve bank is not required for accessing foreign funds for construction activities. The central government has introduced India Infrastructure Finance Company Ltd. (IIFCL), an institution set up specifically for lending to infrastructure sector & refinancing. Further, various Infrastructure entities & financial institutions allowed to issue infrastructure bonds for long term. The construction development sector, including townships, housing, built-up infrastructure and construction-development projects garnered total foreign direct investment (FDI) worth US$ 23,131.64 million in the period April 2000-February 2014. Construction (infrastructure) activities during the period received FDI worth US$ 2,462.60 million, according to the Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (DIPP). A committee on Streamlining Approval Procedure for Real Estate Projects (SAPREP) was constituted by the Ministry of Housing & Urban Poverty Alleviation (MHUPA) to streamline the process of seeking clearances for real estate projects. The Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Bill, 2013, as approved by the Union Cabinet is a pioneering initiative aimed at delivering a uniform regulatory environment to protect the consumer, help in quick verdicts of disputes and ensure systematic growth of the sector.

Business Outlook:

With political uncertainty about division of the state coming to an end with formation of new state Telangana, the prospect for the sector expect to improve. However major developments will be taken only after getting clarity on certain legal and administrative issues.

3. Non-Conventional Energy Division

a) Wind Power

Wind energy program was commenced in India by the end of the 6th five yearly plan during 1983-84 and in the last few years it has increased considerably. Indian policy support for wind energy has led India and it ranked fifth with largest installed wind power capacity. The total installed power capacity was 19,565 MW on June 30, 2013 and now India is just behind USA, China, Spain and Germany. Global installed wind power capacity shows India's better performance in wind energy sector. The five main wind power countries are China, USA, Germany, Spain and India and they together represent a share of 73 percent of the global wind capacity. As per MNRE, wind power accounts for the largest share of renewable power installed capacity i.e. 70 percent (2012), as compared to the other renewable sources. The total installed wind power capacity in India had reached 17.9 GW in August 2012. The total capacity added during financial year 2012-2013 was around 1,700 MW. More than 95 percent of total nation's wind energy generates from just five states located in southern and western India i.e. Gujarat, Maharashtra, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu and Andhra Pradesh. These five states are also accounted for approximately 85 percent of total installed capacity before the end of 11th five yearly plan. It clearly indicates that these five states have been leaders in wind energy generation while other states like Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan and Kerala are also quickly increasing their capacity. State wise installed wind power capacity and growth rate of wind energy in India (Up to June 20th 2013) as well as semi annual growth rate. The highest wind energy installed state Tamil Nadu, which has total installed capacity of 7,196 MW till June 2013, had added 8 percent wind capacity between years 2011 to 20129. State wise comparison of Wind Power Development (2012) among eight most promising states. The Indian Renewable Energy Development Agency (IREDA) under MNRE provides various incentives for the wind energy generation in India such as loans to wind project developers with a benefit of ten years tax exemption on income accumulated through wind energy power projects¹⁰. Indian companies engaged in manufacturing of wind turbine equipments are also exempted from excise duty liabilities. An import duty concession on the import of electric generators has also been implemented. Accelerated Depreciation (AD) has been the major motivating factor for wind market in past, which allowed a depreciation of 80 percent of the installation cost in the first year and therefore reduces the taxable income of plant owner by an amount equivalent to 80 percent of the plant's cost. The Generation Based Incentive (GBI) scheme was also discontinued from March 2012, but it has reintroduced from August 2013. The scheme has been designed in such a manner to continue to fulfill 15,000 MW target during the 2012 to 2017period. 100 percent Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) is allowed in wind sector, which has increased due to GBI scheme.

Business Outlook:

The company has now installed capacity of 9MW comprising of 7 wind turbines in state of Karnataka. Its Concentration will be mainly on Tamilnadu through subsidiary with cautious approach considering wind velocity and regulatory frame work. The Outlook for the sector is stable.

b) Solar Power

Solar energy is an inexhaustible resource. The sun produces vast amounts of renewable solar energy that can be collected and converted into electricity. Those who believe the potential of the solar industry has dimmed may be surprised. Companies that take the right steps now can position themselves for a bright future in the coming years. In the last 20 years, solar energy has made further inroads and now is used extensively in off-grid and remote power applications such as data monitoring and communications, well pumping and rural power supply, and in small-scale applications such as calculators and wristwatches. But solar energy has not yet achieved its potential to become a major contributor to world electrical grids.

As the country emerges as a global economic powerhouse, with a growing population expected to reach 1.47 billion by 2030, its energy consumption will increase substantially. Unfortunately, current energy supply cannot keep up with growing demand. Rolling power cuts from energy deficits already reach 9 percent in the electricity sector. This current lack of capacity excludes the 400 million Indians who have no access to modern electricity at all. With rapidly urbanizing cities demanding more power, renewable energy including solar is critical to provide electricity while reducing dependence on imported fuels and combating climate change

In less than a decade, the solar-photovoltaic (PV) sector has transformed from a cottage industry to a $100 billion business with global reach. According to the Government of India's policy for the solar sector - Jawaharlal Nehru National Solar Mission (JNNSM) - a target of 20 GW of solar installations by 2022 has been set. Under the plan, the use of solar-powered equipment and applications would be made compulsory in all government buildings, as well as hospitals and hotels. On 18 November 2009, it was reported that India was ready to launch its National Solar Mission under the National Action Plan on Climate Change, with plans to generate 1,000 MW of power by 2013. Solar Energy Power Plants using Photovoltaic Technology is gathering momentum in India due to deeper penetration in understanding of the Technology and support of the Government policies. The Jawaharlal Nehru National Solar Mission (also known as the National Solar Mission) is a major initiative of the Government of India and State Governments to promote ecologically sustainable growth while addressing India's energy security challenges. The Mission is one of the several initiatives that are part of National Action Plan on Climate Change. The program was officially inaugurated by Prime Minister of India. Ministry of New and Renewable Energy (MNRE) has formulated a scheme on financing of Photovoltaic and Thermal applications as part of the Jawaharlal Nehru National Solar Mission (JNNSM). Under the scheme, banks may extend subsidised loans to entrepreneurs at interest rates not exceeding five per cent where refinance of two per cent from Government of India is available. The total solar power installed capacity in India stands at 1.686 GW as of 31st March 2013 out of a total of 28 GW of renewable power installed capacity (Source MNRE). For the growth of the Solar industry the National Solar Mission (NSM) has laid out an ambitious goal to make India the global leader in solar energy, and plans to develop capacity of 20 GW by 2020. As per the Railway Budget for 2014-15, the government has planned utilization of solar energy by utilizing roof top spaces of stations, railway buildings and land including through PPP mode.

Business Outlook:

The Company having implanted 5MW Solar Power project at Municipally, Medak District and is quite optimistic about this sector which will give steady cash flow and may look for few more such ventures in future.

RISKS AND CONCERNS

Inadequate risk management is a primary cause of concern indicated by most organizations in India. To be in a position to have fully identified all risks associated with a project and have a response plan for each; that is clearly a benchmark most organizations acknowledge, nevertheless, do little about it. Risk Management by its very nature is flawed because it only identifies the things project managers know; it fails to appreciate the "unknown", "unknowns", the "un-controllable". That said, the more risks identified and planned for, the better position the project team is in to deliver a successful project. Risk Management has been identified as a best practice by most respondents. Moreover, there is a growing concern among Organizations about inaccurate risk identification. The project will yield continuous flow of revenue for the Company.

Retirement and other Employee Benefits

- The Company's employee benefits primarily cover provident fund, gratuity and leave encashment.
- Provident fund is a defined contribution scheme and the company has no further obligation beyond the contribution made to the fund. Contributions are charged to the Profit & Loss Account in the year in which they accrue.
- Gratuity liability is a defined benefit obligation and is based on the actuarial valuation done by the Life Insurance Corporation. The gratuity liability and the net periodic gratuity cost is actually determined after considering discount rates, expected long-term return on plan assets and increase in compensation level. All actuarial gain/Losses are immediately charged to the Profit & Loss Account and are not deferred.
- The company has an overfunded position for its gratuity plans and accordingly, no provision has been made as at 31.03.2014

Green Initiative in Corporate Governance: Go Paper Less

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs has come up with a Green Initiative of permitting the service of documents including Annual Reports to the Shareholders through e-mail or other permissible electronic modes instead of physical mode vide its Circular No. 17/2011 dated 21 April 2011. This is certainly a welcome move for the society at large as this will reduce paper consumption to a great extent and allow all stakeholders to contribute towards a Greener Environment. To support this green initiative, members who have not registered their e-mail addresses, so far, are requested to register their e-mail addresses, in respect of electronic holdings with the Depository through their concerned Depository Participants. Members who hold shares in physical form are requested to fill the appropriate column in the members e-mail registration form and register the same with Karvy Computershare Private Limited.
